Flooding Precautions

A reminder that sandbag supplies are free at the Hideout Public Works Building. Bags and shovels are by the sandpile.

Learn more about how to fill the bags and how to build the most effect barrier at: (not a direct link-copy and paste into browser address bar) <https://youtube.com/watch?v=HbW-hNJ79Wo>

Public Works Building
Directions: From the Ross Creek entrance, turn right onto Belaview Way and then the first left and down to the Public Works Building.

Alert!

If you see any storm drains with debris blocking them, contact Dan Allen, Director of Public Works, at 435-300-0801 or dan@hideoututah.gov.

Notice of Elections

Notice of Election has been posted on the Hideout website for three Town Council Offices; each a 4-year Term.

Utah Wraps Up Amazing Ski/Snowboard Season!

With snowfall totals ranging from 600"—900" along the Wasatch Front and Back, Utah ski resorts worked overtime just to keep skiers/boarders safe and the lifts, gondolas and trams running.

This season saw high avalanche risk, with canyon resorts closing for avalanche hazard/mitigation and slide clearing. From time to time people found themselves in maximum interlodge status, described by Snowbird, "when snow levels are so great and avalanche danger is so extreme that patrons and employees are confined to a resort building while avalanche work is being done."

If you haven't had enough schussbooming, Solitude and Snowbird Ski Resorts will be open into May, with Snowbird extending it's season after May 15th to be open Fri-Sun until at least Memorial Day. How lucky we are to live so close to the best skiing ever!

Coyotes in Hideout

Near Longview Drive

At least one and perhaps more coyotes have been spotted in Hideout this winter. Here are some guidelines for dealing with these skillful hunters:

- Never feed a coyote.
- Remove attractants: fruit, pet food, bird feeders.
- Keep trash in garage.
- Keep dogs leashed; indoors after dark.
- Provide kennels for outdoor pets.
- Attend small children.
- If a coyote is on your property make it feel unwelcome: yell, bang pots, throw rocks, spray with hose, and pick up small pets.

Coyotes are not a protected animal in Utah, and can be killed in approved areas anytime. Shooting is not allowed in the Town of Hideout. Learn more: (not a direct link-copy and paste into browser address bar) <https://wildlife.utah.gov/hunting/main-hunting-page/coyotes.html>

Weed Control Reminder:

The due date for abatement reports has been moved to May 30th. See instructions, report form, and weed list/photos attached to this newsletter email. Report form is Mandatory. Email to weeds@hideoututah.gov.
